In this department thousands of orders are stored after filling and shipped on dates requested by customers. This method insures the holding of stock on early orders even though the bulbs are not desired until a later date. It is our policy to fill orders as nearly as possible in the order in which they are received, and this is convincing evidence as to the advisability of placing your orders early.

Dear Sir:

Due to the fact that we are going to have many out-of-state visitors we are especially urging our home growers to put their best foot forward in the display of their wares, and as you folks are, without question, the head and shoulders of the industry, I am asking you to do the best you can for us in the way of display this year.

James B. Maple, Pres., Indiana Gladiolus Society,
Sherman Bldg., Sullivan, Indiana.

Gladiolus Facts

THIS is the beginning of our 52nd year in the growing and developing of Gladioli. Through the experience that we have gained throughout that expanse of time, it is possible for us to offer you the very best obtainable in Gladioli.

We are equipped with the very finest machinery and tools for the preparation of the soil. The care with which the soil is prepared for a number of years ahead of planting has material effect upon the production of high grade bulbs. This is not an idle claim, as it is easily realized that better crops are produced on the soil best adapted to their production. The cultivation is carried on at regular intervals and in a systematic manner. No cut flowers are shipped, as most growers do. In doing so the stems are cut at such lengths as to injure the plants and consequently the bulbs in their proper development. We cut the flowers off when they are partially bloomed out and immediately below the lower blossom. In this manner the entire stalk and all of the leaves are left on the plant, as should be.

All our bulbs are grown from young bulblet grown stock and no old bulbs are supplied. Older bulbs, even though of proper size, are of materially inferior quality and should be offered for less. We carry no old stock over from year to year.

When harvesting the bulbs in the fall, they are sun-dried as far as possible and placed in storages fully equipped with ventilating systems of our own exclusive design and the curing is as carefully done as is humanly possible. We have found it to be a true fact that the curing is the most important of any of the details in the production of gladiolus bulbs. More bulbs are ruined from inferior curing and storage conditions than from any other cause.

This list represents the cream of our productions to date—the results of many years of tireless effort to produce the best in the greatest of all flowers—The Gladiolus. In this list you will also find the introduction of 32 new and choice varieties and the listing of hundreds of old favorites and kinds of proven quality and merit. The quality of our stock this year is unusually fine. Our stock is virtually free from disease and we do not have any of the Gladiolus thrips that so generally ruined Gladiolus crops the past season in many sections of this country and Canada.

We have greatly reduced our prices, consistent with the general downward trend of all commodities, and quotations made throughout are the lowest possible considering the very high quality which we offer.

We offer mixtures as low as $10.00 per thousand in first size bulbs. Refer to page 13 of this list for general mixture quotations.

Plant Them Anywhere

Some of my customers were disappointed when these small bulbs arrived but that was before they planted them. At blooming time it was quite another story. Never has there been such genuine satisfaction expressed by so many letters. "These are youngsters just bubbling over with vitality", "They just beg to be planted", "Nearly every bulb bloomed", "Such colors as I have never seen before", "Never saw such a marvelous arrangement of color", "My increase from those little bulbs is almost unbelievable." I could go on indefinitely, but you will simply have to plant them yourself to get the thrill of a lifetime.

Promptness may determine your measure of Gladiolus satisfaction this year. To my knowledge this is the first time I have ever sounded a warning to my customers. I am going to send you A SURPRISE PACKAGE for $2 prepaid. That is if you order at once. There will be 100 bulbs, no less, there will be 65 different varieties and there will be the most surprising kinds that ever bloomed in your garden. If you do nothing else for your garden this summer give it this one BIG TREAT. It's coming to you—if you will simply order now.

They Will Increase Each Year

I want my customers to understand fully the nature of my small bulbs in collection form. There are a great many of my customers who want quality blooms but do not care to grow them under name and label. They also wish to have large numbers of blooms for cutting, for making up into floral bouquets, vases, corsages, table decorations, etc., for their homes. By buying the small bulbs these blooms can be obtained at the very minimum of cost. It would be impossible to buy 100 bulbs of this kind and quality, in the large size, for less than $15 or $20. These bulbs should give no rise to any difficulty, even to a beginner. Under normal conditions these bulbs should bloom the first year but even those that do not bloom will grow a large bulb that will give maximum results the second year and for several years longer than old bulbs. The value is so outstanding that I am sure any real lover of flowers will recognize the advantage of this small bulb collection. The quality of a bulb is not determined by size, but by the quality of its bloom.

Here are 100 bulbs (all Kunderd Gladioli) with 65 different varieties for the small sum of only $2.00 prepaid.

Contains Enough Bulbs to Give You Flowers for Many Occasions

Beautiful Table Decoration

A great advantage of this small bulb collection is that it produces enough flowers for cutting and using for basket work, table decorations, corsages, and vases. Over a long blooming period there are flowers available for this purpose. If you care to, you may plant these bulbs at two or three different intervals. This will give even a greater period of blooming.

Complete cultural directions are sent with each collection and you should experience no difficulty at all in obtaining fine blooms. While I cannot guarantee all the small bulbs to bloom I do guarantee complete satisfaction. If at blooming time you are not satisfied that you have received a marvelous value I will send you another collection absolutely FREE.

Dear Mr. Kunderd:

The American Gladiolus Society finds happiness in forwarding to you with its compliments, a copy of Descriptive Nomenclature.

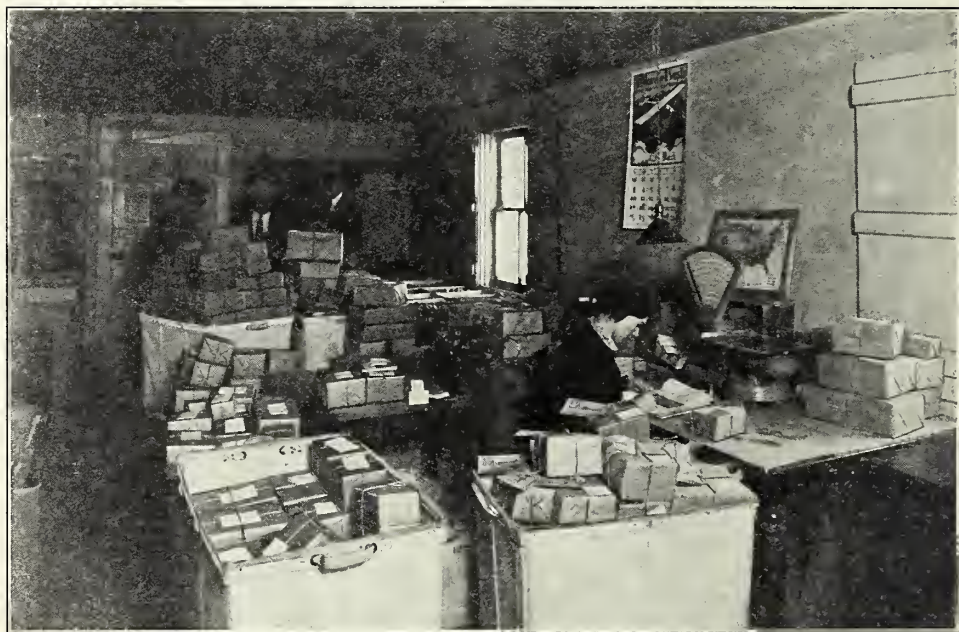

While its inscription says "for services rendered", it is in no way a commensurate recognition of the services that have been rendered by you but it does say that the society has not forgotten.

We hope that you will find pleasure in receiving it and that it will also be a source of considerable information to you.

Cordially yours,

Roscoe Huff
Sec'y. American Gladiolus Society,
Spohn Bldg., Goshen, Ind.

I want to tell you of the great success I had with your bulbs last year. Although, as you know, the summer was unusually hot and dry, by early mulching and thorough watering every three to five days, I succeeded in growing very beautiful flowers.

Although your bulbs are more expensive than others I order, the cost as judged by results is not nearly so high as it seems.

I recall cutting four blooms with flower heads 18 to 20 inches in length, which beautifully filled a large vase. These were two Youells Favorite, one Twilight and one Dream. This vase of flowers was handsomer than a dozen of the ordinary good varieties in another vase, and my conclusion is that the best Gladioli are three times as valuable as the ordinary varieties.
